RAILROAD DEPARTMENT

TWO CENT RATE REFUSED IN KANSAS

No Voluntary Cheap Rates on Part of Big Systems.

Topeka, Kan., July 29.—Correspondence received by the state board of railroad commissioners yesterday from two of the leading railroad systems operating in Kansas establishes to a certainty the fact that the railroads will not put into force in Kansas a two-cent passenger fare until the litigation over the two-cent fare in other states has been finally decided.

The correspondence is from G. T. Nicholson, third vice president of the Santa Fe, and N. H. Loomis, general attorney for the Union Pacific. It is in reply to a letter written by the board to all of the railroads in Kansas asking them to put into effect in Kansas a flat two-cent fare. These letters were sent out several days ago but these two are the only railroads that have replied.

No Cheap Fares.
The fact that the letters are very much alike indicates that the board of railroads as to the two-cent fare proposition in this state. In Nebraska and Missouri the legislatures passed two-cent fare laws. Kansas tried to do the same but the railroads in these two states are contesting the laws in the courts and state in their replies to the board that the railroads will not put into effect the two-cent fare until the litigation now pending is settled.

The railroad officials attempt in their letters to convince the board that Kansas do not want a two-cent passenger fare. They state that in case such a rate is made all excursion rates will be shut off and that the Kansas will lose many other privileges he now enjoys.

"AN EVASIVE FOWL"

IS THE BOX CAR
El Paso, Texas, July 29.—W. H. Schmieding, superintendent of car service for the National and Midland railroads in Mexico City, although taking the duties of his office very seriously, evidently sees the humorous side of the freight business as well. For several weeks he has been impudently on all sides to furnish more cars than he was able, at any time, to various shippers.

Volumes of correspondence left his office relative to the requests, but though not tiring of the task of trying to please everyone, he thought that "a little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," and accordingly he addressed the following to a shipper to whom he is acquainted in a social as well as a business way. It was:

"Dear Sir:—What is a box car? A box car belongs to the fowl family. During the spring and summer months it can be found in nearly every part of the country. Its favorite haunts being railroad tracks, and it is easy to capture. In the autumn, however, like certain other fowls it goes into hibernation or flies to other climes. Scattered instances are known where specimens are captured during the summer months. A lasso or well-greased switch crew is sometimes used in snaring the bird, but main strength is the best weapon. In any case the hunter must be very wary, as any noise, like the fluttering of a waybill, will make the quarry disappear. Some railways own large flocks of domesticated boxcars, but they are carefully guarded during the closed season. The wild box car, when caught, is fairly well loaded, becomes perfectly stationary. Yours as ever,
W. H. S."

Needless to say the shipper enjoyed the letter and understood better than many of the country's correspondents could have told him, the difficulty under which the genial superintendent was laboring. Many of the cars belonging to the National and other railroads of the country have migrated to the United States, where they are never by any means released except under the most continuous and heavy pressure of correspondence from the local offices.

The car shortage of the roads of the United States is far greater than it is in Mexico, and whenever the freight men of the roads of the United States catch a Mexican "May-erick" they hold to it until only the most persistent and strenuous pressure is brought to bear upon them to send it back home.

Mr. Schmieding's humorous letter sizes up the situation in a few words about as well as anything could.

"DEATH" ENGINE AGAIN

AT WORK ON SANTA FE
Engine 1672, the big oil burner which caused the instant death of three men at Onava of the boiler arrived in Las Vegas this afternoon, again on its way to the coast lines. TRINIDADIAN EASY FOR BROWNS

Seven Runs and One Out in
One-Third of Inning.

A bunch of hitting kids who style themselves the Albuquerque Browns jumped on to Charlie Lockart, the famous pitcher from Trinidad, at Traction park yesterday afternoon in the presence of about 300 enthusiastic fans and gave him a drubbing in one inning that the Trinidad newspapers won't say anything about. The sum total of what they did to Charlie while he and his support were making one out was three singles, one double and a sacrifice, with a result of seven scores. Then the rain came and put a stop to the carnage. It was only a little black cloud, but it shed tears in sheets for the wounded. The drops were large and they came straight down. Puffy Gamble, the umpire, says take refuge wherever it is dry. And the boys in blue from the north obeyed. They did not have to be told to get in out of the rain. They hugged themselves for joy. The rain had saved them from a sousing defeat. They were willing to take the sousing, but the way that the Browns were landing on the Trinidad rain carrier struck them in a sore spot.

While the Cimarron players were hugging themselves for the rain the fans were hugging themselves for the out of the rain. They were driven from the front to the back of the grand stand and nestled together in groups and shrugged their shoulders and frowned at the weather man. After waiting a half hour, hoping that the rain might stop and the game be continued, the crowd became disheartened and straggled away. After most of them were gone and the Traction park diamond had more the appearance of a pleasure lake than a base ball ground, Manager Matson announced that the rain check would be given out at the box office for next Saturday, when the Browns will take another try with the Cimarron team.

BASE BALL DOPE.

Lockhart, the Trinidad pitcher, who Cimarron imported her for yesterday's game, is the same Lockart who is credited with defeating the Denver Grizzlies.

If the rest of the Trinidad bunch are no faster than the much touted Lockhart, a game with them wouldn't be worth car fare. Manager Matson ought to call off all negotiations with them.

Those who waited yesterday and secured rain checks will see a red hot game of base ball today. The Cimarron bunch know now what kind of a game they are up against in playing the Browns and they will come doubly loaded. Trinidad's feet will freeze when they hear what was done to their pet, Lockhart.

Among the enthusiastic fans from out of town at the game yesterday were Col. R. E. Twitchell of Las Vegas, and J. W. Record, of Raton. Mr. Record is superintendent of machinery for the Swastika railway. That is the railroad which bought those nice blue suits for Cimarron. They ought to be lucky.

Winter's lingering in the lap of Spring did it. Perhaps you remember that, when we expected pleasant weather early in the spring, it snowed. Then it snowed again. And then it snowed between snows and all at the time when we should have been selling Spring things. The short season leaves our stock too large. NOW THINGS MUST GO. New season and new stock in view. Plenty of time to wear light weights but short time in which to sell them. So, here goes. The more you buy the more you'll save. That's the whole story.
